RECOMMEND REMOVAL CICERO MURRAY AS PRORATION OFFICER

OKLAHOMA OIL INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE MAKES FINDINGS PUBLIC

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 23.—(P)—Recommendations for the withdrawal of national guardsmen from the Oklahoma City oil field and the removal of Col. Cicero I. Murray from command were made in a report drafted today for presentation to the state senate by its oil investigation committee.

The report as drafted condemned both the use of the militia and of umpires chosen by producers to enforce proration and recommended enactment of a new proration law placing enforcement power in the hands of the corporation commission and providing severe penalties for violators.

Such a proposed law is now before the legislature.

It further charges that Colonel Murray had refused to appear before the committee to explain bank accounts totaling $168,000; that the colonel had not furnished reports and audits as he had agreed, and that he had accepted sums of money from operators in the form of "advances."

Declaring the committee was informed two such "advances" by the Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation and the T. B. Slide interests totaled more than $25,000, the drafted report said "we were told that this was advanced for the purpose of carrying out proration laws, but no accounting has been made of this money so far as this committee has been able to ascertain."

The investigators found that allowable production for the Oklahoma City field for the year 1932 totaled 25,862,000 barrels; that 32,220,000 barrels had been reported to the proration department; 29,503,000 barrels to the corporation commission and 87,100,000 barrels to the tax commission. It further charged that unallowable oil would total 12,000,000 barrels for the year.

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 23.—(P)—It was learned on good authority today that the tentative draft of the senate oil investigation committee's report to the Oklahoma legislature recommending immediate removal of Colonel Cicero I. Murray as military proration enforcement officer in the Oklahoma City field.

Legislators conceded that the final report might not include this recommendation. Colonel Murray is a relative of Governor W. H. Murray and is attorney for the Oil States Advisory committee.

The report was being copied by stenographers.

The report alleges that: Ten million barrels of oil has been produced in the Oklahoma City field in violation of proration laws.

Thirteen million barrels of oil have been produced under corporation commission orders granting exemptions to certain types of wells.

Discrimination exists in enforcement.

FASCIST ITALY IS OBSERVING FOUNDING OF MUSSOLINI POWER

NATIONAL SALUTE TO DICTATOR OF PARTY AND NATION IS PLANNED

MILAN, Italy, March 23.—(P)—Black shirt Italy massed today to offer a nationwide salute to Premier Benito Mussolini and commemorate the 14th anniversary of the Fascist party.

Il Duce issued a statement saying: "Our words now cross frontiers, our doctrine is now universal and our work is already testimony to us for future generations."

Festivities started in Milan at 11 a. m. with an assembly of Fascist party founders in the Piazza San Sepolcro Palace. Here Il Duce's eloquent address of 14 years ago today—the address which started the wave of Fascism responsible for the present system of government—was read and all units of the Fascist organization mustered in town and village plazas throughout the land to reaffirm their homage to the party.

The Milanese Fascists with the original group of party founders at their head formed columns and paraded through the principal streets of Milan to entrain for Rome in a simulated "second march" on the capital.

Full regimental dress uniforms, standards and national emblems; smart parade ground maneuvers of the Fascist Militia Avanguardista, or Junior Fascists, and other units brought wild cheering from the masses concentrated to see the parade.

BILL TO LIBERALIZE PRESCRIPTIONS FOR LIQUOR APPROVED

HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE BRINGS IN FAVORABLE REPORT ON CELLER BILL

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(P)—The Celler bill to liberalize the prescription of liquor by physicians was approved by the house judiciary committee today by 10 to 8.

The measure was identical with that passed by the house last session except that it did not contain the amendment added on the house floor to authorize the prescription of malt liquors.

That bill died in the senate. The present bill would apply only to spirituous and vinous liquors.

The committee authorized Chairman Sumners to ask the rules committee to give the bill a privileged status.

It would place into the hands of prescribing physicians the determination of how much liquor should be given their patients.

"No more liquor shall be prescribed to any person than is necessary to supply his medicinal needs and no prescription shall be filled more than once."

Physicians also would be relieved of the necessity of keeping records of their liquor prescriptions and reporting to the government.

Oklahoma Farmer Hitchhiked His Way to Death

YALE, Okla., March 23.—(P)—Russell Trump, 25, hitchhiked his way to death.

Picked up by I. E. Kenworthy of Stillwater near here late yesterday, Trump jumped from the automobile when Kenworthy raced across a grade crossing in front of a Missouri-Kansas-Texas passenger train.

Trump was struck by the locomotive and killed. The train did not touch the car and Kenworthy was unhurt.

Trump was a farmer south of here.

MEMBERS BOTH HOUSE AND SENATE COMMITTEE PROMISE QUICK ACTION

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(P)—Miss Frances Perkins told a congressional committee today that the purpose back of the President's reforestation measure was to afford relief not jobs.

Boy, Habitual Drunkard, Takes Liquor Cure

SAN ANTONIO, March 23.—(P)—An eight-year-old habitual drunkard is taking the "iron cure" at the county juvenile home for boys.

The boy was hauled into the office of the county proration officer by detectives after his mother had complained she was unable to keep him sober enough to attend school.

The school teacher said that when he did get to school he was unable to do anything except sleep off the effects of untold amounts of liquor.

DR. McREYNOLDS IS ELECTED HEAD PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS

GENERAL HARBORD PRINCIPAL SPEAKER THURSDAY GATHERING OF DOCTORS

DALLAS, March 23.—(P)—Dr. J. O. McReynolds of Dallas was elected president of the Pan-American Medical association today at a business session of the executive committee and 25 vice-presidents were selected from nine countries in North and South America.

Dr. McReynolds, president of the association's fourth annual congress which began Tuesday, succeeded Dr. Francisco Fernandez of Havana, who had held the office for the past three years.

The vice-presidents were elected from the United States, Mexico, Argentina, Panama, Cuba, Peru, Canada, Brazil, Uruguay and Colombia. Dr. Joseph Eller of New York son-in-law of Elias Cales, former president of Mexico, was chosen as executive secretary along with Dr. Jose E. Lopez-Suñer of Havana, who was re-elected.

The executive assembly, including official delegates, confirmed the proposed floating congress for Saturday.

Trump was struck by the locomotive and killed. The train did not touch the car and Kenworthy was unhurt.

HITLER IS GRANTED DICTATORIAL POWERS FOR NEXT FOUR YEARS

UNION OF GERMANY AND AUSTRIA URGED AT OPENING OF REICHSTAG

BERLIN, Mar. 23.—(P)—The reichstag, with only the socialists opposing, today passed an empowering act granting Chancellor Hitler's demand for four years of dictatorial power.

BERLIN, March 23.—(P)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler, shouting above the cheers of his Nazi deputies, demanded four years of dictatorial power from the reichstag today.

He relegated the issues of the monarchy to the background, lifted the destruction of communism to the fore in his program, reiterated the familiar Nazi thesis of arms equality for all and promised a campaign of "barbaric severity" against all traitors.

Wave after wave of applause and cheers drowned his voice from time to time. The Nazis, who control the house, especially approved his dictum that, once adjourned, the reichstag would be recalled only from time to time "to be informed by the government of its acts when the assent of the reichstag is desirable."

The first big cheer came when he expressed his approval of "public decapitation" of the men who set fire to the reichstag building just before the last election. There was tumultuous applause also at this announcement of a campaign of "barbaric severity" against all traitors.

"No gigantic revolution of similar dimensions ever has been carried out with such unvarying discipline and so little bloodshed as our revolution," he cried, and the Nazis cheered him.

He condemned as "an unexampled crime" the 1918 revolution which gave birth to the German republic, now virtually destroyed to make way for the new regime.

BERLIN, March 23.—(P)—Restoration of the German monarchy is a matter for future consideration which does not demand immediate attention, Chancellor Adolf Hitler told the reichstag today in presenting his demand for four years of dictatorial power.

Annihilation of communism, he declared in outlining his four-year plan, is a purely domestic matter which does not concern any foreign power.

"Further development of communism," he said.

Claims Houston Be Center Great New Oil Sector

HOUSTON, March 23.—(P)—Houston stands in a wonderful era of oil development that will probably mean the production of four billion barrels of oil in the next 25 years, W. E. Wrather, chairman of the leading geologists in the nation, said today while attending the convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists here.

Geologists have known for 10 years that this section covered the greatest accumulation of oil known anywhere in the world, Wrather said. "Their first guess was that there were two billion barrels of oil today we have indications that there are four billion barrels of oil in the Gulf coast section."

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS ARE SPEEDING EFFORTS ON BEER AS DRY LEADERS PLAN CONTEST

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(P)—The federal government today moved swiftly to open the beer taps through which a legal 3.2 brew will flow to America's thirst after midnight April 6.

Machinery to license brewers was set in motion by Dr. James M. Doran, industrial alcohol commissioner, who pledged himself to the sale of beer and wine of 3.2 percent alcoholic content. The President's action signaled the end of the absolute prohibition which has prevailed since 1920.

Leaders of prohibition organizations, meantime, made plans for testing the law's constitutionality and for blocking the sale of beer by injunction. They served notice of a determined court battle.

Government officials estimate that an annual revenue of $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 will be returned to the internal revenue bureau has begun distribution of revenue stamps which will bring in the $5 tax on every barrel.

FARM MORTGAGES REFINANCING PLAN BE ANNOUNCED SOON

MAY CALL FOR BOND ISSUE AMOUNTING TO TWO BILLION DOLLARS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(P)—From a conference of congressional leaders at the white house today issued word that the impending farm mortgage plan will call for refinancing present debts with new government bonds, probably totaling a billion dollars.

Speaker Rainey told newspapermen this was the plan, explaining it was hoped this sum would be sufficient to provide the needed relief, but adding that issuance up to two billions would probably be made possible.

At the same time Senator Smith (D., S. C.), who has been strongly critical of the farm relief bill already passed by the house, indicated confidence that changes would be made which would satisfy those opposed to its present language, and please the administration as well.

The farm relief bill was referred to the agriculture committee by the senate only today. It will be considered by this committee tomorrow.

Among those at the White House conference were Senator Robinson, of Arkansas; the majority leader, Senator Eyring (D., S. C.); Chairman Jones of the house agriculture committee; Chairman Buchanan of the house appropriations committee; Senator Bankhead (D., Ala.); Senator Gore (D., Okla.); Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.); Chairman Steagall of the house banking committee; Senator McAdoo (D., Calif.); Senator Smith (D., S. C.), chairman of the senate agriculture committee; Henry Morganthau, Jr., chairman of the farm board, and Prof. W. I. Myers, Morganthau's assistant.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(P)—Speaker Rainey told newspapermen the treasury today was considering and congress "shortly" will receive a recommendation from President Roosevelt for enactment of a farm mortgage refinancing plan calling for the possible issuance of two billion dollars worth of bonds.

A tentative draft of the bill is in the hands of Secretary Woodin for any suggestions he might have to make, Rainey said.

He predicted that "for the sake of speed, this bill will be added in the senate to the farm price" (Continued on Page Two)

Red Bird Here Makes Amateur Of K. C. Robin

The Kansas City robin's battle against a window pane was minor engagement as compared with a Corsicana red bird making its home at Arcady, suburban residence of Miss Dorothy Drane.

According to Miss Drane this red bird has been battling for two years against glass enclosing the conservatory either to gain entrance or fighting with its reflection.

"No, I do not think the red bird is in love," Miss Drane stated, "it just seems to want to get inside."

HOUSE DEBATES BEER BILL OF DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA THURSDAY

CHEERS AND JEERS MINGLED AS CONGRESSMEN DISCUSS PERSONAL DRINKING

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(P)—Cheers and jeers mingled with rousing house debate today over how much drinking congressmen would do if the bill to permit the sale of 3.2 per cent alcoholic beverages in the District of Columbia became law.

Blanton, a Texas Democrat, reminded that the beer bill President Roosevelt signed yesterday was not legally in effect in the mile square District of Columbia. Then he added:

"If you do not pass this law they cannot sell beer in Washington. There was a time in the past when beer was sold in this nation's capitol and men have walked across the floor when their gait was not steady, and if there had been a line on the floor here they could not have followed it."

LOVE AFFAIR WITH GERMAN WOMAN HELD BACK OF CHARGES

PROSECUTION RESTS IN COURT MARTIAL YOUNG BRITISH ARMY OFFICER

Lead all—Love affair LONDON, March 23.—(P)—Lieutenant Norman Baillie-Stewart of the Seaforth Highlanders denied on the witness stand today that he ever had disclosed to a foreign agent any information prejudicial to his country.

The young officer, on trial before a courtmartial, is accused of betraying military secrets for pay. The money he received, he contends, was sent him by a German girl whom he had met in Berlin.

"On my honor," he said today, "I never have attempted to obtain, I never have obtained, and I never have disclosed information prejudicial to the state. There is no possible reason why I should have done so. I never have been in debt in my life."

He explained that memoranda on army matters such as tanks and armored cars, which the prosecution contended he had noted down in connection with his alleged betrayal of secrets, were in fact notes he had made because of his constant interest in matters connected with the mechanization of the army. His brother, who also is an army officer, is much against army mechanization.

JUDICIARY SUPPLY BILL PASSED BOTH HOUSES THURSDAY

LEGISLATURE ADOPTS CONFERENCE REPORT ON SALARY REDUCTIONS

AUSTIN, March 23.—(P)—The Texas legislature today passed the first of the four major appropriations bills, that for the support of the judiciary for the next biennium.

Action was made final when the senate voted, 26 to 1, with two pairs, to accept a compromise bill drawn by a free conference committee. The house had passed the compromise bill a few hours earlier.

The bill would appropriate $3,912,675 for support of the judiciary for the biennium beginning next September 1. This was a reduction of approximately 31 per cent from the appropriation of two years ago. The state democratic platform called for a reduction of 25 per cent in the expenses of the government.

Salaries of judges were reduced from 20 to more than 25 per cent. The new salary scale would be as follows:

District judges $4,000 annually; judges of courts of civil appeals $5,160 annually; judges of commissions of appeals to supreme court and court of criminal appeals $5,500; judges of supreme court and court of criminal appeals $6,000.

Before the senate adopted the conference report, it voted 19 to 9, to table a motion by Senator Walter Woodul of Austin to postpone action until Monday.

The house continued consideration of a bill making appropriations for maintenance of the various departments during the next biennium.

An effort to eliminate positions to support the state barber examining was defeated. The allotment for traveling expenses of inspectors was increased from $12,000 to $15,000. The work of the board and pleaded with the house to "abolish the thing." He said that seven-tenths of the inhabitants of one another in the forks of the road anyway."

In the banking department, salaries of assistant bank examiners were reduced from $1,800 to $1,500 annually.

AUSTIN, March 23.—(P)—The house of representatives today concurred in the conference committee report on appropriations for support of the judiciary for the biennium beginning next September 1. The senate still was to accept the committee's recommendations.

The bill had gone to conference after the two houses failed to agree to salaries voted judges of the various courts.

The bill carried appropriations aggregating $2,912,675 for the biennium, compared with $5,699,515 voted for maintenance of the courts the past two years.

OHIO RECEDING BUT MISSISSIPPI FLOOD IS EXPECTED NEXT

LIGHT RAINS CONTINUE TO WORRY VICTIMS OF THE RAMPAGING RIVER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 23.—(P)—As the Ohio river's crest surged toward the Mississippi, presaging floods in western Kentucky, Illinois and Missouri, twelve deaths had been laid directly or indirectly to the flood.

The river was at a stand at Louisville, 100 miles downstream from Cincinnati, after driving almost 800 families to higher ground here, but was still rising at Owensboro, where it was already five feet above flood stage, and at Paducah, where it had not yet reached flood stage.

With the Mississippi river already swollen before the Ohio's flood water swept into it, residents of western Kentucky, Illinois and Missouri bottomlands began to feel the pressure of the up-river floods early in the week. The crest was expected at Paducah, on the Ohio, Saturday, and at Hickman, Ky., on the Mississippi, Monday.

CHANGE ANNOUNCED IN CROP PRODUCTION LOAN REGULATIONS

APPRECIATION EXPRESSED FOR COOPERATION SHOWN BY LOCAL COMMITTEES

A change in regulations governing the crop production loans was announced Thursday in a communication received from the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas. The new regulations, which were given authority to mail out checks to those applicants residing in counties whose county clerks have signified their willingness to file the mortgage and issue certificates on basis of fifty cents. The change in regulations enabled the government to absorb the charges in place of requiring the borrower to make the payment in counties where county officials are willing to cooperate.

The inspectors said that applications were being received in fair-sized volume from Navarro county and expressed their appreciation for the fine, efficient and generous spirit of co-operation of the various committees in the county carrying on the work; they pointed out that while these committees have been busy to administer their affairs, they were not too busy to devote many hours to the getting of needed funds into the hands of borrowers, who might have been dependent upon the committees next winter unless they were enabled to make a crop.

The inspectors declared that these business men are rendering a public-spirited service not only to the government and the community but to every business man and citizen in their community where funds are received and spent. During the period up to the present time last year, only about 2600 applications for loans had been received compared with 12,000 received to date this year.

C. Elliott of Memphis, Dr. Edward Gallo of Canada, Dr. Juan Pou of Uruguay, Dr. Jaime Jaramillo of Columbia, Dr. Manuel F. Madrazo of Mexico and Dr. George W. Cline of Cleveland.

Resolutions passed by the executive committee formally adopted a memorial day for Pan-American medicine to be celebrated by scientific medical societies everywhere Dec. 3, honoring the date of birth of Dr. Charles Finlay, discoverer of the transmission of yellow fever by mosquito. The day will be observed this year for the first time and each year thereafter, honoring American doctors of high achievement who "have unselfishly dedicated their lives" to the science.

The opening session of the Pan American league, which will continue through tomorrow, Thursday, was scheduled along with the international medical relations session open to the public tonight.

Speakers on tomorrow's program of the league were Philip Leonard Green, adviser of the all-nations' association of New York; Dr. L. F. Rodriguez Molina of Havana and A. C. Zambrano, Pan-American representative of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

DALLAS, March 23.—(P)—Major General James G. Harbord retired chief of the American Expeditionary forces in the World War, today suggested elimination of economic frontiers with the subsequent disappearance of political frontiers and the resulting world peace and commerce upon his arrival here to address the Pan-American Medical congress.

Gen. Harbord, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America, came to Dallas prepared to urge a Pan-American understanding similar to the free trade agreement within the British empire in an address tonight at the International Medical relations and public health session of the congress.

"The Ottawa conference," he said, "has shown that if tariff walls are to stand they must embrace a wide area, such as the British Empire, within which there can be free trade. In principle, the Ottawa agreement must be the same as that in the United States, where there is free trade within the states."

He pointed out that there were three major economic areas in the world—the East and the Western hemisphere—with varying conditions. He said he was not prepared to predict tariff or trade unions embracing each of those

FUNERAL SERVICES THURSDAY AFTERNOON FOR ROY CANADY, SR.

Funeral services for Roy Canady, Sr., aged 68 years, long-time business man here, who died at his home, 1118 West Sixth avenue Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock after an illness of many months, were held from the family home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. Canady was a native of Missouri but had resided in Corsicana for more than 50 years. He was connected with the Corsicana Steam Laundry for a number of years, and was active in Republican political circles until ill health forced his retirement. He served as Republican chairman on several occasions.

The funeral was closed Thursday afternoon.

Surviving are his wife, a son, Roy Canady, Jr., Corsicana, and other relatives.

The services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Richardson, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church. The Masonic Lodge had charge of the services at the grave.

Funeral home in charge was Ed McCarver, John Mitchell, T. W. George, J. H. Gibson.

The funeral was directed by the Suterland-McCammon Funeral Home.

Miss Perkins stood at the end of the long committee table to give her report to the joint session of the house and senate labor committees.

She appeared after R. Y. Stuart, chief of the forestry service, had asked the committee to amend the bill to allow the use of private lands of the civilian conservation corps that would be created by the bill. At present its use would be restricted to publicly owned property and most of this is west of the Mississippi.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(P)—President Roosevelt's plan for recruiting 250,000 jobless men in a civilian conservation corps met its first congressional test today at joint hearing before senate and house labor committees.

Fresh from the white house conference last night at which the President outlined his plan, the two committees prepared to hear opponents of the proposal.

At the outset, Representative Ely of Tennessee, the Democratic floor leader, asked for quick committee action and gave assurance of prompt consideration in the house.

He said the house would be ready to take the bill up the day after the committee approved it.

Chairman Walsh of the senate committee promised disposition would be expedited.

Chairman Connery of the house labor committee, said he planned two days of hearings.

The first witness was R. Y. Stuart, chief of the forestry service, who recommended an amendment to the bill to permit the use of corps on private forest lands.

The bill as sent to congress by the President would confine the work to reforestation and similar employment on public lands.

Stuart said there are 161,000,000 acres of national forests, but only 7,000,000 are in the Mississippi.

A co-operative arrangement between the federal government and private owners would provide for the use of labor in the East, in the absence of forest lands, Stuart testified.

fixing bill passed yesterday. As the measure now stands, Rayney asserted, it calls for a bond issue to provide funds for the refinancing.

The bond issue might reach $2,000,000, but we hope it won't go over $1,000,000, the speaker said.

"The bill calls for complete liquidation of the joint stock land banks as soon as it has been enacted," Rayney continued. "It provides an extension of the farm loan system to replace the joint stock land banks and to embrace as many mortgages as will be obtainable through conciliatory methods."

Remarks Resented.

Legislature of Kansas Bringing Long Day to State

TOPEKA, Kas., May 23.—(P)—Among its other achievements the present legislature has brought to Kansas the longest day the state has ever known.

Although the sun has risen three times and set twice since midnight Monday, March 20, today still is Tuesday, March 21, despite the 60-odd hours intervening.

This seemingly impossible feat was attained by the two branches by the simple expedient of stopping their clocks at 11:35 p. m. Tuesday when the house over the controversial salary reduction bill, while the senate in turn got the clockwork of the house, which to date neither has managed to break.

Miss Perkins stood at the end of the long committee table to give her report to the joint session of the house and senate labor committees.

She appeared after R. Y. Stuart, chief of the forestry service, had asked the committee to amend the bill to allow the use of private lands of the civilian conservation corps that would be created by the bill. At present its use would be restricted to publicly owned property and most of this is west of the Mississippi.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(P)—President Roosevelt's plan for recruiting 250,000 jobless men in a civilian conservation corps met its first congressional test today at joint hearing before senate and house labor committees.

Fresh from the white house conference last night at which the President outlined his plan, the two committees prepared to hear opponents of the proposal.

At the outset, Representative Ely of Tennessee, the Democratic floor leader, asked for quick committee action and gave assurance of prompt consideration in the house.

He said the house would be ready to take the bill up the day after the committee approved it.

Chairman Walsh of the senate committee promised disposition would be expedited.

Chairman Connery of the house labor committee, said he planned two days of hearings.

The first witness was R. Y. Stuart, chief of the forestry service, who recommended an amendment to the bill to permit the use of corps on private forest lands.

The bill as sent to congress by the President would confine the work to reforestation and similar employment on public lands.

Stuart said there are 161,000,000 acres of national forests, but only 7,000,000 are in the Mississippi.

A co-operative arrangement between the federal government and private owners would provide for the use of labor in the East, in the absence of forest lands, Stuart testified.

At first the Sanchez child was believed to have been the only pupil drowned, and it was an hour after her body had been located before the second child was missed and her body located.

fixing bill passed yesterday. As the measure now stands, Rayney asserted, it calls for a bond issue to provide funds for the refinancing.

The bond issue might reach $2,000,000, but we hope it won't go over $1,000,000, the speaker said.

"The bill calls for complete liquidation of the joint stock land banks as soon as it has been enacted," Rayney continued. "It provides an extension of the farm loan system to replace the joint stock land banks and to embrace as many mortgages as will be obtainable through conciliatory methods."

Remarks Resented.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(P)—Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation in an open letter to congress today denounced derogatory remarks on farm leaders recently made by Representative Hart of Michigan.

MAN WHO RAN DOWN CHILD WITH AUTO COMMITTS SUICIDE

NEW YORK, March 23.—(P)—They found Charles Liederman today but it was too late to tell him the boy he struck with his automobile did not die and that, after all, the police did not want him for homicide.

Liederman, a 34-year-old candy salesman, ran down little Philip Coniglio in Brooklyn on January 31 and didn't stop.

Police thought the child was going to die and so they broadcast an alarm for Liederman. A witness to the accident had noted his auto license number.

The candy salesman disappeared and neither his wife nor the police could locate him until today. His body was found floating in New York bay.

He had committed suicide.

Two Negroes Held In Connection With Recent Burglaries

Two negroes were arrested Wednesday by city officers in connection with some recent burglaries, and a quantity of carpenter's tools and other stolen property recovered. The tools were the property of E. E. Burkhardt. A hot plate stove and other articles were recovered and returned to their former owners.

The police department is also attempting to determine the ownership of a small electric motor recovered by city officers while working on a burglary recently. Any one losing a motor recently is requested by Chief of Police Will S. Knight to communicate with the department.

munism in this country," he said, "would have meant catastrophe for all Europe."

As for disarmament, he reiterated the familiar German thesis, "Germany has been waiting for years for the fulfillment by other nations of their promise to reduce armaments," he cried as the house applauded wildly. "We desire to live in peace with all nations, but only on a basis of equality."

"Ten years of peace is better than thirty years of dividing the world into victors and vanquished. Our hand is stretched out to every people willing fundamentally to forget the past."

He expressed appreciation for Great Britain's efforts to obtain Geneva, and he paid special tribute to Premier Mussolini's tribute to Premier Mussolini's four-power plan for stabilizing European peace.

"That proposal is of the greatest significance," he said, "and we are glad to cooperate in it."

BERLIN, March 23.—(P)—Opposition parties still permitted to function were warned not to oppose Chancellor Hitler's demand for a four-year dictatorship at today's Reichstag meeting.

The Nazis and Nationalists had enough votes to assure passage of the enabling act putting the Reichstag out of business and scrapping the republican constitution. Nevertheless the government served notice it would accept any opposition as "a declaration of war" and that such parties and their voters would suffer.

The warning was directed particularly to the Centrists and Socialists, the Communists not being allowed to take their seats. The Socialists refrained from voting when Nazi and Nationalist officers were elected at the Reichstag organization meeting Tuesday.

The new Prussian Diet, which was to have elected a premier today, was indefinitely adjourned after its opening meeting by the Nazi speaker, Hans Kerrl.

A deadlock was reported with the selection of Capt. Hermann Goering, Hitler's chief aide, as premier, and the Nationalists equally adamant in backing President Von Hindenburg's close personal friend, Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen, for the post.

TWO-DAY SESSION ATHLETIC EVENTS STATE HOME FIELD

LITERARY EVENTS WILL ALSO BE HELD AT HOME
DURING SAME TIME

The 1933 University of Texas Navarro County Inter-scholastic League track, field, and literary meet will open a two-day stand at the State Home campus here Friday morning, with hundreds of students taking part in the two classes of events. Playground ball continues to reign as the most popular event with between 40 and 50 teams lined up, and volleyball rates secondary in popularity.

The meet will close Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock, and the winners will begin their preparations for the district meet in Hillsboro, for the middle of April.

Little interest will likely be manifested in the class A track and field events as State Home and Corsicana High schools—two bitter rivals—will not compete this year for the first time in the history of the meet. Corsicana recently exercised its option to form a city-county unit, and will appeal for its action directly to the district meet.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Longbotham have as their house guests, Mrs. Mollie Harris of Houston. Mrs. Woods Payne and children and Mrs. Lloyd Land of Mexico were weekend guests of Mrs. J. C. Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Billington of Curran were Wortham visitors during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Garrett and Dr. K. W. Sneed were in Corsicana Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sneed and J. E. Sneed of Corsicana were business visitors in Wortham Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Gladys Fullen of Houston is visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. J. C. Wood, in Corsicana.

A large delegation from the Methodist Episcopal church were in Mexico last week to attend a conference of the Corsicana district. Those noted from Wortham church were: Rev. and Mrs. T. S. Ogilvie, Mesdames J. F. Crowson, E. L. Keeling, H. B. Bonds, Mrs. J. M. Wayland, R. G. Puerf, Ed Satterwhite, Gale Zoda, F. W. Horn, E. M. Zoda, J. Wayland and Clovis Bonds.

An interesting and enjoyable meeting was reported by the delegates.

The faculty of the Wortham High School, and the Bi-Stone Orchestra participated in a program at the School Auditorium Friday night that gave enjoyment to the large audience.

The two-act play "Her Radio Audiences" was the play presented and held a thrill every minute, or it may have been the "actors" the faculty in this new role that gave the most pleasure. Any way it was a decided success.

Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs, who has been in Teague with her mother, Mrs. S. E. Tucker, recuperating from her automobile accident, returned to Wortham Monday.

Many friends are delighted that both she and Miss Grace Hackey are so improved that they are able to leave home.

Large List Contestants

W. T. Brumlow, director general of the meet, intimated that he expects the largest number of both contestants and spectators in the history of the event. This belief is based upon the fact that many of the advance entrance blanks are coming in at an early date.

Due to the large number of teams signed for playground ball, and with entries still coming in, it will be necessary for a bracket to be made and a schedule to be drawn up in advance of the meet.

Following is the schedule of events for the two days' meet, as announced by Director General Brumlow.

MITCHELL ARRESTED INCOME TAX CHARGE NEW YORK TUESDAY

NEW YORK, Mar. 22.—(P)—Less than 24 hours after his arrest was ordered by the attorney general in Washington, the case of the federal government against Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Bank, arrested last night on a charge of income tax evasion, went before the federal grand jury today.

Federal Attorney George Z. Medalle, his chief assistant, Thomas E. Dewey, and Assistant Federal Attorney Murray Gruen presented to the grand jury before noon the charge that Mitchell by self-deception and by the aid of others, willfully evaded an income tax of $657,152 in 1929.

Attorney General Homer S. Cummings said in Washington last night that Medalle would "proceed forthwith to present the case to a grand jury with a view to pressing for an early trial."

Medalle did not comment today on the grand jury proceedings, but gave any information concerning witnesses who had been called. In evening clothes Mitchell, who until his recent resignation was a result of his testimony before the senate investigating committee was one of the country's most powerful bankers, was arrested last night in his Fifth Avenue home in a taxi cab.

The federal building, where his bail was fixed at $100,000 and a hearing set for March 29. A surety company furnished his bail, and he returned home.

Wortham Church Women in Regular Weekly Meetings

WORTHAM, March 23.—(Spl.)—Mesdames Hill Howard and M. S. Bondes were joint hostesses for the social meeting of the Woman's Missionary society at the home of the former, Mrs. Bob Lee, president of the society, presided over the program. A one-act play "Why We Should Take the Missionary Record," was well received by the large attendance. This was interestingly given by Mesdames Puerf and Lovelace. Piano solo by Miss Evelyn Brummitt and readings by Ethel Craig and Miss Olena Bonds delighted the membership with their numbers. During the social hour, delicious refreshment plates were enjoyed.

"Building World Peace on the Word" was the subject of the Missionary Society of the Baptist church. Mrs. J. M. Jones was leader of the subject presented assisted by Mesdames Bob Pounds, Mrs. J. J. Manning, and W. Wilson Miller. A most interesting review of the book was enjoyed by a large attendance of members.

Mrs. George C. Jurens, brought the regular Bible study in a most forcibly and enjoyable way. Mrs. Jurens concluded her talk with the closing prayer.

The young people of this church enjoyed the social hour, and Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stubbs.

The young people met at the church, where cars were provided for the evening drive to the Slubbs home. The drive was also an added pleasure. The royal welcome of the host and hostess, games, fun and frolic, all made a happy evening for the participants.

A fine attendance of the membership enjoyed the regular Woman's Auxiliary meeting at the Central Presbyterian church Monday afternoon.

Mrs. W. B. Sneed was leader of the regular topic "Japan," the country that is featuring the headlines of the daily newspapers. Many interesting items of Japan were brought out by those appearing on the program with Mrs. Weaver, who were: Mrs. J. J. Stubbs, Mrs. Frank Reed, and Mrs. Guy Lovelitt.

An executive meeting was held prior to the regular meeting, and the annual report blanks which were the high lights of the meeting, disclosed a most satisfactory report of the years work with the stamp of progress, in advancement for the woman's work of the church.

The retiring president Mrs. K. M. Sneed gave her message which included her appreciation and co-operation of the membership, and in bespeaking for the new president, Mrs. J. J. Stubbs, this message was warmly received.

Mrs. Stubbs responded, concluding her remarks by presenting, in behalf of the Auxiliary a beautiful tray to Mrs. Sneed.

Honoring the Auxiliary membership, and the new officers, Mrs. Sneed, entertains at her home with a luncheon, for the next regular meeting.

The young people of the church met for their regular session Monday evening enjoying their largest attendance for some time. Robert James Poindexter, president, conducted the business meeting, and presented the program leader, Ruby Keeling. Japan was the topic presented by the leader.

Those taking part on the program were: Mrs. E. M. Zoda, Mrs. R. G. Poindexter, Margaret Red and Mrs. Dick Wimberly. "The Seeing Eye," "Japan of Today," "Glimpses Into Japanese Factories," "At Sapporo Station" were the subjects interestingly given by the above.

Negro Woman Kills Negro Man in Shot Through Key Hole

HOUSTON, March 23.—(P)—A bullet fired through a key hole found its mark last night and brought death to Robert Williams, 32, negro. Zetta Reed, negro woman, told police she was returning to her quarters with a negro man when Williams stepped from behind a hedge and threatened to cut her throat. She ran into the house, got a pistol and fired through the keyhole, she said. The woman was charged with murder.

CHARGES ARE FILED AGAINST 5 FORMER BANK OFFICIALS

SHAWNEE, Okla., March 23.—(P)—Charges were filed here today against five former officials and "accommodation note makers" of the H. H. Douglas chain of banks which failed last November. Like charges were to be filed against eight others at Wewoka later in the day. All of the counts alleged irregularities in banking.

Six counts were listed in the indictment against H. T. Douglas, Shawnee financier and president of the closed Shawnee National bank. Three counts were filed against Newell Douglas, a brother of H. T. Douglas.

Those charged with irregularities in note-making were I. D. Walker, Ralph Walker and M. Massad.

Other banks in the Douglas chain that closed were the Park National, Sulphur; First National, McCloud; First National, Paden, and Teague National, Teague. The charges also mentioned the Citizens' Loan and Investment Co., of Shawnee, headed by H. T. Douglas, with Newell Douglas as a director. The closed state banks were the Maud State, Maud; and the Canadian Valley Bank, Asher.

Congress Passes Bill to Provide Quake Relief

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(P)—A bill for $5,000,000 in federal funds to aid rebuilding earthquake stricken areas in California, was sent to the white house today by the senate.

Senate action came in approval, by unanimous consent, of a conference report already accepted by the house. The bill provides for reconstruction corporation loans up to a total of $5,000,000 for repairing quake damage, all loans to be secured by collateral.

SENATE COMMITTEE TO HEAR PLANS FOR REPEAL CONVENTION

AUSTIN, March 23.—(P)—The Senate state affairs committee will hold a hearing tonight on bills proposing to set up the machinery whereby Texas may express their views on repeal of the 18th amendment. The house previously voted overwhelmingly in favor of a bill to provide that delegates to a state convention to consider ratification of repeal would be selected in the general election of 1934.

The house state affairs committee voted 11 to 7, five unfavorable reports to the Graves-Woodruff bill to provide for a sweeping re-organization of the state government. The bill was recommended by the joint legislative committee on organization and economy. It was presented after 18 months of study.

Both houses were at work on bills to reduce the salaries of all county officers. The fees would be graduated according to the size of the counties, with the maximum for the largest counties to be $5,500 or $5,000 annually.

CONVICTION AGAINST POLICEMEN AFFIRMED BY APPEALS COURT

AUSTIN, March 22.—(P)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed a five-year conviction against Lonnie W. Wilkerson, Port Worth policeman, who was charged with murder after Buster Grimsley, a boy, had been shot to death.

Grimsley and several companions were retrieving golf balls on a Port Worth golf course when the homicide occurred. The officer and others shouted at the boys and they ran. Wilkerson shot in their direction.

A death sentence against Walter Freney, negro, convicted in Dallas county for murder in connection with the death of Myrtle King, beaten to death with a stick, was affirmed.

A life imprisonment verdict against Oscar Lafferty, alias Oscar Byrum, convicted in Ellis county for burglary under the habitual criminal statute, was reversed.

Conviction of George Hill, given 12 years imprisonment by a Taylor county jury for murder of John R. Kiser, who was stabbed and cut to death, was affirmed.

TWO APPOINTMENTS WERE ANNOUNCED BY PRESIDENT TODAY

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(P)—President Roosevelt today appointed former Representative James V. Collier of Mississippi to the tariff commission and James H. Hanley of Nebraska to the radio commission.

Collier, head of the house ways and means committee last session, was named to fill the commission vacancy caused by the failure of the senate to confirm the appointment by President Hoover of former Representative Charles Crisp of Georgia.

The term expires June 16, 1937. Collier did not run for re-election because of a supreme court decision which upheld Mississippi's reappointment law. The veteran representative had failed to enter a primary because a lower federal court had ruled the Mississippi law invalid and it was too late for him to run after the supreme court decision.

Hanley is a prominent lawyer of Omaha, Nebraska, and is vice chairman of the democratic state committee.

He has been active in democratic circles in Nebraska for years and was at one time secretary of the late Representative Lobeck (D., Neb.).

Hanley's term in his new position expires in February, 1936.

Mildred and Tiger Track Teams Staged Practice Wednesday

Track performers of Corsicana and Mildred high schools engaged in a practice race at Tiger field Wednesday afternoon. The two teams did not compete in all events. Mildred won first place in the high jump and 100-yard dash, while the Bengals annexed first honors in the mile, one-half mile, relay and 440 and 220 yard dashes and in the javelin throw.

The Odessa Fellows did not compete as expected.

Jako Hanna, Corsicana track coach, stated Thursday morning that he was planning a big track and field meet here next week with a number of high schools competing. Definite announcement will be made within the next few days.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT LEADERS FAVORABLE TO MUSSOLINI PLAN

PARIS, March 21.—(P)—Tentative acceptance of the peace plan of Premier Mussolini of Italy was understood to have been given today by Premier Edouard Daladier and Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and Sir John Simon, his foreign secretary.

The tentative acceptance was said to have been given at the start of an all-day session of conferences at the British embassy.

Mr. MacDonald and Sir John are returning home by way of Paris after conferring last Saturday and Sunday at Rome with Premier Mussolini, at which time the Italian statesman's plan was broached.

France, it was said in government quarters, regards the plan favorably but wants clarification and modification.

The French insist that the nature and extent of revision of treaties be defined and that Poland and the little entente be treated as equals, not inferiors.

They insist that the powers affected must be consulted if frontiers are altered.

The government was said to be more favorable to the plan than the newspapers, some of which think Signor Mussolini is trying to isolate France.

Premier Daladier and M. Paul-Boncour believe the Italian premier's gesture tends to calm war nervousness and that they therefore must accept if France is to be safeguarded.

Use This Laxative made from plants

Theodore's BLACK-DRAUGHT is made from plants that grow in the ground, like the garden vegetables you eat at every meal. NATURE has put into these plants an active medicine that stimulates the bowels to act—just as Nature put the materials that sustain your body into the vegetable foods you eat.

In Black-Draught you have a natural laxative, free from synthetic drugs. Its use does not make you have to depend on cathartic chemicals to get the bowels to act daily. Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

POWER

Not in the history of the world has one man wielded power so great, over more than 100 million people, as that now possessed by President Roosevelt by the grace of congress.

The opportunity for rendering service to the country as a whole without fear of, or favor to, section or class is incalculable. The mess at Washington demands quick action and clear thinking. Never in the history of the republic was the federal government so out of touch with the realities and financially bankrupt as on March 4 last.

Greater opportunity than that possessed by any wartime president is Roosevelt's. If he is equal to his greatest concern will be speed so that he may return the power which is rightfully congress' to the legislative branch of the government at the earliest date.

REPEAL

Basing its opinion upon the results of its last year's poll—and its polls have proven to be amazingly accurate—the Literary Digest forecasts that the prohibition amendment will be repealed by practically all of the states. Everyone remembers that the Digest poll showed only North Carolina and Kansas voting dry, and these states by the barest margins. There is little doubt that this great national poll has crystallized the sentiment of the nation to the point that resulted in the dumping of prohibition by both major parties in their conventions at Chicago last summer.

At one time it was a boast of the dries that the prohibition amendment never would be repealed because adverse action of 13 states would block such action. That argument seems pitifully weak now. It is hard to picture even half a dozen states willing to stand by the present arrangement, and when one tries to stretch them to 13 it just baffles the imagination. It isn't in the cards.

Meanwhile the process of ratification of the 21st amendment goes relentlessly and swiftly forward. Wisconsin will select her convention delegates April 4 and seems likely to be the first state to repeal the 18th amendment.

ADVICE TO DRIES

A sane expression from the dry side, on the movement to repeal the eighteenth amendment, comes from Stanley High, former editor of the Christian Herald.

Mr. High sees ratification not as a national menace. A greater danger would result, he says, if ratification should be blocked. Defeat of the resolution, he believes, would mean nullification, "which would just as effectively release the country from the provisions of the prohibitory amendment as outright repeal."

Mr. High is not a champion of liquor. He regards the latter as evil, and is not in favor of the dries quitting the arena. But he thinks a different kind of campaign is needed, and favors an educational program aimed at young people.

"What the dry cause needs," he states, "is not more pressure in Washington and at the state capitals, but more conversions among the constituencies;" and, "If such a program comes out of the present situation, then I believe the dries will one day look upon the defeat for prohibition as a victory for temperance." In temperance by choice rather than

COURAGE

This is courage: to remain brave and patient under pain; Cool and calm and firm to stay in the presence of dismay; Not to flinch when foes attack; Even though you're beaten back; Still to cling to what is right; When the wrong possesses might. This is courage: to be true To the best men see in you; To remember, tempest-tossed, Not to whimper "All is lost!" But to battle to the end While you still have strength to spend; Not to cry that hope is gone While you've life to carry on. This is courage: to ensure Hurt and loss you cannot cure; Patiently and undismayed, Facing life still unafraid; Glad to live and glad to take Bravely for your children's sake, Burdens they would have to bear If you fled and ceased to care.

RHYME BUT NO REASON

The girl who today treads the aisle to the tune of the wedding march observes certain marriage rites so old that the original reasons for their existence are forgotten.

Her wedding veil, for instance, is a relic of the canopy that was formerly held over the bride to seclude her from profane gaze. The ancient Romans attached great importance to the custom of veiling the bride, the principal object being to protect her from the evil eye, a superstition current among many tribes and races. Among other early peoples the glance of a bride spelled misfortune for the one meeting it, unless it happened to the bridegroom, so the bridal veil was required.

The custom of wearing a previously worn bridal veil is believed to have originated with Roman brides who supposed good luck to attend those wed in a veil previously worn to the altar.

That the wedding ring was originally a mark of ownership, evidence that the wearer was the property of her husband, is a fact well known in this day of equal suffrage and the new freedom for women. Today the ring is but a symbol of marriage.

One might enumerate ad infinitum the instance where once significant customs survive today as meaningless ceremonies or are observed for reasons having no relation to the cause of their origin in antiquity.

BUREAUCRACY AT WORK

Not the easiest or most pleasant job in the world is that of deporting aliens placed on the spot by the federal government. There may be some super-sensitive persons who could no more fill the job than throw a widowed mother and her babe into the street because the rent is a month overdue.

There is the sad case of the 10-year-old Syrian boy around whom the Iowa courts have thrown a protecting arm to save him from deportation and separation, perhaps forever, from his mother. Immigration authorities made the sensational discovery that this dangerous alien had entered the country illegally to join his mother, an American citizen, in Iowa and the wheels of justice moved rapidly and exceedingly fine to send him back to Syria.

Had not the courts interceded for this boy and his American family the country would not have been spared this instance of what is worse than man's inhumanity to man—his inhumanity to children.

No doubt when the immigration bureau makes its report it will explain in detail on a reel of red tape whether little Fred Abour was to be deported because he is not self-supporting or because his presence on American soil is likely to deprive Americans of their rightful employment.

What price bureaucracy! A custom officer would destroy the most famous religious painting in the world as obscene and the immigration authorities would deport a 10-year-old boy all in the same week.

by force of legislation lies the solution of the liquor problem, he thinks.

This view represents a sane approach to the question. If the dries finally come around to it and make it their future program they will stand some chance of correcting the evils connected with liquor.

SPRING CLEANING

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Many times since the current depression set in it has been asked what difference it would have made had the country entered upon hard times with an established system of compulsory insurance. The New York joint legislative committee on unemployment answers that question.

After two years of study the committee concludes that had unemployment insurance been in force long enough before the 1929 crash to have built up a sizeable reserve it would have greatly relieved the present situation, but that any form of insurance which at this time imposed upon employers an added expense would be a handicap rather than a help. Anything tending to increase manufacturing or marketing costs is a potential cause of increased idleness.

Nothing could be gained by creating unemployment insurance funds at this time when the wave of unemployment seems to have been checked and when the workers, the employers and the government have nothing with which to establish such a fund.

Unemployment insurance must wait until the index of employment has turned upward and when employers have something left over after meeting their payrolls and other expenses. And when that time comes it will be a matter for the individual states.

This does not mean that the country is without unemployment insurance. The hundreds of millions of dollars the people have put away in the last three years in postal savings, savings deposits, insurance and other forms of savings are the best form of unemployment insurance.

Speaking of preparedness, the insects that gather honey were wise enough to mount a weapon apt to protect it.

Perhaps Japan thought she was obliging some autograph hunters when she signed all those treaties.

Doubtless an old chief grins when he sees America now and remembers that it once killed savages.

Every man thinks he can cure a cold or raise a family until he gets one of his own.

So live that you can go to the door without wondering if it is a bill collector.

It is strange, but when a man sows his wild oats he raises Cain.

SUPERSTITION

When Kepler, one of the greatest of astronomers, needed money and instruments with which to study the stars he pretended belief in astrology and obtained both money and equipment from his emperor by "reading" in the heavens good fortune for Napoleon. With the money with which Napoleon endowed the pseudo-science astrology Kepler advanced the true science of astronomy.

This generation is less fortunate. The science of astrology is not retarded by lack of funds, but the public is fleeced of vast sums annually by fake astrologists, palmists, phrenologists and other so-called fortune-tellers. Thousands of these mountebanks and impostors thrive on American gullibility, and they are even more numerous in other countries. It is significant that as the general intelligence increases the prestige of the fortune-teller wanes until it finally disappears entirely.

Those who have faith in the soothsayings of fortune-tellers usually believe in "signs," swear by the almanac and patronize the quack doctor. They live in constant dread of that "break" in the "life line" on the palm of the hand, plant their garden by the signs of the zodiac, avoid black cats, throw spilled salt over the shoulder, never open an umbrella in the house, blame their hard luck on the mirror they remember or think they remember having broken years back.

A century or two ago superstition actuated the whole life of all humanity. Today a relatively small minority of mankind has cast out all superstition from its mind, but the great majority is still guided through life in greater or less degree by superstitious belief. When reason enters the human mind superstition must ever be crowded out.

In Persia weddings are pulled off in the bridegroom's absence, which seems like taking an unfair advantage.

WAYWARD EMOTIONS

Feeling is about all there is to life.

Life is determined by its feelings and some of us are willing to die for feeling. The common fallacy is that certain lives are emotionless. People take up all sorts of stunts to get a thrill. The thrill comes anyway.

It is necessary, with emotions, to consider the cause and effect. The emotions are not cause, they are effect; they are a symptom. They are caused by our mode of life. If a man will go ahead and do his duty, the proper emotions will come to him.

Emotions run in ruts like all other things. They are the creatures of habit. People think they cannot write, or compose music, without an inspiration. The best examples of creative genius show us that inspiration comes as a result of custom.

Get used to doing a certain thing at a certain time every day and the emotion will come.

Some people are emotion hounds. They are always seeking some new sensation. They are apt to fritter themselves away, because the best kind of emotions follow action and do no precede it.

An emotion is useless unless it leads to some kind of activity. There are people who indulge in emotions, but never translate them into work. Emotions are given us in order to enable us to transform them into deeds, and those who do not transform them, waste them.

The emotions have their police force, which are the inhibitions. Where these are weak in a person he is apt to become a criminal of some sort, and as they are strong, he behaves himself.

PRESIDENT SENDS ANOTHER MESSAGE CONGRESS TUESDAY

CREATION CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS FOR WORK IN FORESTS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.

President Roosevelt sent to congress today the first of his plans for restoring employment, one putting a quarter million men to work in the forests, and immediate steps were taken to put the undertaking into law. No sooner had this message, fifth major recommendation to the special session by the chief executive, been read and applauded in both houses than Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Senator Wagner (D., N.Y.) introduced a bill under which, as the president requested, there would be created a "civilian conservation corps" whose enlisted personnel would work at reforestation and halting soil erosion. The president, besides asking that this legislation be enacted within two weeks so he could put 250,000 men now unemployed to work at the forest task, told congress he would soon send up recommendations for establishment of the federal relief administrator to direct his relief plans for the "grants to states for relief work," and a broad program of public construction.

The Robinson-Wagner bill was referred to the committee on education and labor. The president's message similarly was referred by the house to its labor committee. Under the senate measure, the president would be authorized to select from the unemployed men to work on the reforestation, flood and soil erosion prevention and other projects at no more than $30 a month, with food and housing provided. The money would be provided from unexpended balances now in the treasury, approximately $200,000,000 being needed this year. The conservation corps would be employed for one year and dependents the president would be authorized to prescribe how much should go to these, but in no event would the pay exceed $30 a month.

The projects to be worked would be self-liquidating insofar as practicable, although this rule would be flexible.

When skilled artisans were needed to erect the dams, the president would be authorized to employ them at the prevailing wage in the locality.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(P)—President Roosevelt announced today the creation of a "civilian conservation corps" to give jobs in the forests.

Again writing concisely, he addressed his first major proposal to congress with a promise of putting 250,000 men to work "by early summer," if given authority to proceed within two weeks.

The president also outlined suggestions for "grants to states for relief work" and a broad program of public construction.

He asked establishment of the office of federal relief administrator to direct the machinery for co-ordination of his relief plans.

He said he would submit soon to congress recommendations to carry out the direct relief work and the public construction plan.

Funds are available for relief until May, he said, necessitating further appropriations before that time.

The presidential text follows: To the Congress: It is essential to our recovery program that measures immediately be enacted aimed at unemployment relief. A direct attack on this problem suggests three types of legislation.

The first is the enrollment of workers now by the federal government for such public employment as can be carried out and will not interfere with the demand for or the proper standards of normal employment.

Grants To States. The second is grants to states for relief work. I advise you that the remainder of the appropriation of last year will last until May. Therefore, and because a continuance of federal aid is still a finite necessity, I request that a further appropriation must be made before the end of this special session.

I find a clear need for some simple federal machinery to coordinate the direct relief grants of aid. I am, therefore, asking that you establish the office of federal relief administration whose duty it will be to scan requests for grants and to make recommendations for their use. Should be Enacted at Once. The first of these measures which I have enumerated, however, can and should be immediately enacted. I propose to create a civilian conservation corps to be used in simple work, not interfering with normal employment, and confining itself to forestry, the prevention of soil erosion, flood control and similar projects. I call your attention to the fact that this type of work is of definite, practical value, not only through the prevention of great economic loss, but also as a means of creating future national wealth. This is brought home by the news we are receiving today of vast damage caused by floods on the Ohio and other rivers.

Control and direction of such work can be carried on by existing machinery of the departments of labor, agriculture, war and interior.

I estimate that 250,000 men can be given temporary employment by early summer if you give me authority to proceed within the next two weeks.

Funds Now. I ask no new funds at this time. The use of unobligated funds, now appropriated for public works, will be sufficient for several months. This enterprise is an established one.

part of our national policy. It will conserve our precious natural resources. It will pay dividends on the present and future generations. It will make improvements in national and state domains which have been largely forgotten in the past few years of industrial development.

More important, however, than the material gains will be the moral and spiritual value of such work. The overwhelming majority of unemployed Americans, who are now working, are receiving private or public relief, would infinitely prefer to work. We can take a vast army of these unemployed out into the fields surrounding the work.

We can eliminate to some extent at least the threat that spiritual and moral stability. It is not a panacea for all the unemployment, but it is an essential step in this emergency. I ask its adoption.

Sent At Noon.

The message reached the capitol at the noon hour, and was read in the house within a few minutes.

The membership once more sat silently listening, following closely the latest words from the chief executive. In the offing was the final vote approving beer legislation, with its friends predicting the house would approve the conference agreement already announced by the senate, thus enabling the President to sign the bill into law by night.

Speaker Rainey referred to the message of the labor committee. It was accompanied by a draft of the proposed bill.

The house applauded the measure at the conclusion of its reading.

As soon as a senate quorum was obtained, 35 members answered present—the measure also was read to the senate. The membership there followed the words without demonstration.

Refuses Introduce Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(P)—Chairman Connery of the house labor committee today refused to introduce President Roosevelt's unemployment relief bill on the ground that organized labor is opposed to it.

Speaker Rainey told newspapermen he would ask Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the Democratic floor leader, to introduce the bill.

Connery told newspapermen he could not "father a $1 a day wage for married men as well as six-figure men."

RECESS OF SENATE PREVENTS SIGNING OF BILL TUESDAY

EXPECT MEASURE BE APPROVED BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.

The house of representatives voted final passage of the 3.2 beer and wines bill today, but senate adjournment before the vote took place made it impossible to send the legislation to the White House for President Roosevelt's sign it before nightfall as had been planned.

There was no record vote in the house, only a short speech against the bill by Representative Blanton (D., Tex.), preceding the shouts of "aye."

Since the vice president has to sign the bill while the senate is in session, it can not go to the president before tomorrow. Then 15 days must elapse after he signs it before sale can be begun in states not having restrictions against it.

It was a question among officials whether, if the president signs the act into law by noon tomorrow, April 6 or 7 will be the first day.

The conference report providing for wine of the same alcoholic content by weight as beer, was approved yesterday by the senate 43 to 36.

The measure climaxes a 13-year-old fight between congressional wets and dries, with the former forces victorious for the second time this year. Late in the last session, congress voted to submit repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

Action on the report came in the house shortly after it was received from the senate. Debate was limited to an hour. Representative Cullen of New York, assistant Democratic leader, sought approval without a roll call vote.

Believes It Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(P)—Senator Norris (R., Neb.) said today he had voted against the conference report on the 3.2 per cent beer bill because he believed it unconstitutional and that it would be so held by the supreme court.

Norris was one of three senators who voted last week for the bill when it proposed to legalize 3.05 per cent beer, but switched and opposed the conference report proposing to permit a 3.2 strength.

House Didn't Want Hear Blanton Speak

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(P)—Anti-prohibitionist representatives arrayed themselves in full force in the house today for the imminent passage of the 3.2 beer and wines, to send the bill to President Roosevelt.

So sure were they of their ground that Representative Cullen (D., Tex.) said: "It may not even be necessary to have a roll call vote" on the report adjusting differences with the senate. The other branch approved the report yesterday.

White House so President Roosevelt can sign it before sunset," Cullen told reporters.

If that happens, beer can be sold April 5 in places where such sale is not against state or local law.

The conference report was submitted by Cullen as author of the bill and was read.

Cullen said that the senate had receded from its amendment for 3.05 per cent alcoholic content in favor of the house 3.2 per cent content.

"The senate has receded from the Borah amendment preventing sale to minors," Cullen said. "The house receded on the so-called wine amendment, which permits the sale of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content."

"Otherwise the bill is virtually as it was passed by the house," Cullen said. "Vote," went up.

Cullen said he had promised to give the president a step in which to discuss the measure.

"No, no," members shouted. "I must keep my promise," Cullen said as the uproar increased. Blanton then asked for fifteen minutes in which to "discuss this momentous question."

Representative Britten (R., Ill.) introduced a resolution.

"Since the gentleman from Texas has not spoken on this question, I think the house should hear him."

The house roared with laughter. Blanton has spoken frequently on the measure.

"I don't care to use up the whole hour of debate myself," Cullen said. "But I want to keep my promise."

Blanton then took the floor.

"Every recession in this conference report by the house or senate is in favor of intoxicating liquor," Blanton said.

Removal of the Borah amendment, forbidding the sale of the new beverages to youths under 16, he continued, "opens up the door in every little town to every school child."

YOUTH ADMITS SHOOTING AND SAYS AGREEMENT TO SHOOT OFFICERS MADE

FORT STOCKTON, March 23.—(P)—Defense witnesses attested to the good character of James Thomas Farmer at the Brooklyn youth's trial here on a murder charge for the slaying of Sheriff Lee Sproul in the hills near Fort Davis.

After introducing as evidence a statement assertedly signed by Farmer concerning the shooting, the state rested yesterday. Theft of rifle, ammunition and food from the storehouse of Mack Sproul, brother of the slain Jeff Davis county sheriff, was described.

The statement quoted Farmer as saying he and two brothers accompanied him to the Big Bend country, Paul and Albert Steinberg, "raided the ranch and then returned with the brush-clad hills and the brush-clad hills to the sheriff. They entered into a verbal agreement to "shoot it with officers" if threatened with arrest, according to the statement.

Sheriff Sproul and other officers picked up the ranch boss the day after the ranch robbery. The statement attributed to Farmer described the ensuing shooting as follows:

"I heard some brush break. I squatted down on a rock and I saw a man come up the hill. I fired at him. When I fired I turned and ran. I fired the shot before he saw me, I reckon. The reason I fired was that I didn't want to be arrested. I wanted my part of the agreement."

Ninety-five junior high school students made all A's or three A's with no grade lower than a B, to be listed on the honor roll for the first six weeks of the 1933 spring and announced from the office of Principal O. F. Allen Wednesday. Mr. Allen said this was the largest north-east in the history of the school. The school has about 500 students enrolled.

SPRING TIME PROBLEMS

In The Spring
Spring days are often hard on the complexion. Miss Forbes gives some suggestions which are easy to follow, and which insure you the freshest and clearest of springtime complexions.

There are two problems that come to the front these spring days. One is what to do for a red, chapped skin, the other is how to cure the ugly marks which appear on the skin.

Let's take the last problem first. A winter of rich foods, and building up resistance against the cold, has made the blood thick. When the warm weather sets in, there is nothing to do but to thin and purify the blood. You can do this very easily by eating the sulphur tablets which every drugstore sells, taking the sulphur for three days, letting three days elapse, and then eating it for another three days. If after your second three-day vacation the skin is not clear, take the sulphur again for three days. This should give you a complete clearing out of all poisons accumulated during the winter. If not well, then there is something wrong with you and you'd better ask your doctor.

The early spring days call for extra care of the skin. Raw wet winds take all the oil from the skin, which makes wrinkles appear where they never existed besides causing a dry, rough and often dirty-looking surface. So use a good foundation cream, and make sure it is not drying, and put it on your face and the front of your throat and in a deep V down your chest, before you go out. And powder thickly over it. Use a nourishing cream at night or wipe off the skin with almond oil, and occasionally, use a bleach on the skin. Peroxide of hydrogen and witch hazel, half and half, makes a good one. Cleanse the skin, pat this with cotton, and after a few minutes, wipe it off and the skin feels dry, rub with a little almond oil.

Be sure to use a hand lotion these days—either one from the shops, or a home made glycerine and rose water combination, half and half.

Mrs. B.—If you give your scalp an oil treatment previous to a shampoo, you will need to give the hair several latherings. It will take the first one to dissolve the oil, although there may not be any need to do any rinsing between the latherings, ordinarily.

H.K.L.—When olive oil is used on the scalp it is to relieve a dry state and help dislodge any collection of scale or other dried particles of skin that adhere to a scalp in that condition. It has nothing to do with growing hair other than relieving a bad condition. When this same oil is used on the skin, in a cream, or just in its natural state, it is for cleaning, but that does not mean that it tends to grow hair.

Lily N.—The lines over the backs of your hands are probably due to a dry state of the skin just now, as you are far too young to have any serious lines. Rub a little of any of the honey and almond lotions into your hands after you have washed them. These keep the skin soft, and prevent chapping over the cold months. Cream or oil rubbed into our hands at night will help a great deal too, and you do this also, your hands will look just as youthful as ever after a few weeks.

LEGALIZES SALE OF BEVERAGES APRIL 7 IN MANY PLACES

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND VICE PRESIDENT GARNER SIGNED BILL TODAY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(P)—President Roosevelt signed the 3.2 per cent beer and wine bill into law today immediately on receiving it from the capitol.

It legalizes the beverages to be sold where not otherwise prohibited in the clock strikes midnight, April 6. Fourteen states allow the beer, which must be held to 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight, or 4 per cent by volume.

Waiting no time on the act to which he looks for at least a $125,000,000 tax contribution toward balancing the budget, Mr. Roosevelt—as soon as the bill reached the White House—crossed over his cabinet table to affix his signature, along with that of Vice President Garner that had been put on two minutes after the senate met. The president went to the cabinet room by Representatives Cullen and O'Connor of New York, McCormack of Massachusetts, and Parsons and Sabath of Illinois, all Democrats.

When sponsored the law on the legislative course.

In his seat at the head of the cabinet table, and in the presence of newspapermen and photographers, the president planned over 1-2 pages of the enrolled measure.

Upon completing the reading, he folded over the last page and picked up the first of the four pens he used in signing.

Stephen C. Early, a secretary, was at his side.

The delegation of house members which carried the bill to the White House stood just outside the cabinet room during the signing and later were received by Mr. Roosevelt.

Looking up after he had signed, the president smiled.

Later he remarked to photographers that he hoped they "got the smile" at the end of the signing.

When the bill was received from congress, Early took the measure in to the president who was just completing lunch at his desk with Representative Cullen.

The president immediately walked over to the cabinet room and signed.

Four Pens Given Away.

Representative Cullen asked if he might have one of the pens used in the signing.

"Sure," the president replied.

He handed amiably with the delegation around him while he posed for photographers. There was another smile like "that other one," and the president chuckled.

The president directed that the four pens be given to the American Federation of Labor, the American Legion, Cullen, and Senator Harrison of Mississippi, who as chairman of the finance committee, was in charge of the legislation in the senate.

Vice President Signs Beer Bill Quickly

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(P)—Vice President Garner signed the 3.2 per cent beer and wine bill at the first opportunity today, and it was only a matter of minutes before President Roosevelt could do likewise.

The president arranged to sign as soon as the legislation reached him from the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue, thereby making sale possible in fifteen days in states not having laws against it.

An official ruling at midday was that the bill makes sales legal after midnight April 6.

Once sale gets under way, a long legal controversy is expected to follow as to constitutionality of the law, reaching the supreme court eventually.

President Roosevelt today asked the attorney general to report the status of federal prisoners convicted under the dry laws but who would not have been guilty of violation under the terms of the new beer bill.

No Decision On Paroles.

No decision has been reached on paroling such prisoners, nor is it known how many there are.

The bill went to the President just nine days after he asked its enactment in a brief special message.

It was the third of the major emergency requests put before him and enacted by the special session, which convened two weeks ago tomorrow. The others were the banking bill and the economy measure.

Treasury experts have estimated that it will contribute from $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 in additional revenue toward balancing the budget, by its provisions for a tax of 35 a barrel on the beverages.

The senate had been in session but two minutes after noon, when Garner signed.

Its adjournment before the house voted final passage yesterday necessitated putting the formality over, inasmuch as the senate must be meeting when the Vice President acts.

Speaker Rainey signed yesterday as soon as that right shout of "aye," rang through the crowded house chamber.

Babe Ruth Will Get $52,000 For Playing in 1933

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22.—(P)—Babe Ruth came to terms with Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, here this afternoon and will sign a one-year contract for $52,000.

The long salary controversy was brought to a sudden close today when Ruth reduced his demand of last Saturday from $55,000 to $52,000. The figure was immediately accepted by Ruppert and the conference, their third of the spring training season, was over within five minutes.

Ruth's salary will drop back to its 1929-30 level when he signs his new contract. He received $75,000 last year.

LOCAL RESIDENT OVER FIFTY YEARS DIED EARLY TODAY

Roy Canady, Sr., aged 68 years, prominent in business and political circles for many years, died at the family residence, 1118 West Sixth avenue, Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock after an extended illness. The funeral will be held from the family home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. Canady was born in Jefferson City, Mo., but had resided in Corsicana for more than 50 years.

He served as Republican chairman here a number of times and was active in the Republican circles here until ill health forced his retirement.

Mr. Canady was one of the proprietors of the Corsicana Steam Laundry for many years. The laundry will be closed Thursday afternoon.

Surviving are his wife, a son, Roy Canady, Jr., Corsicana, and other relatives.

The services will be conducted by Rev. J. A. Richardson, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church.

The funeral will be directed by the Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home.

Arkansas Timber Business Booms

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., March 22.—(P)—A demand for staves for beer kegs has caused a boom in the timber business in the north-west Arkansas Ozarks and given employment to farmers and mill workers in communities where stave mills are virtually the only active industry.

Stave manufacturers, operating about 70 mills within a radius of six counties in this area, estimate that more than $150,000 a day is going into the work of preparing for the return of legalized beer.

PLAN REFINANCING AGRICULTURAL AND HOME MORTGAGES

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WILL SEND PROPOSALS TO CONGRESS ON MATTERS SOON

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(P)—President Roosevelt's next message to congress will recommend a program of farm mortgage relief, including methods of refinancing. It will be ready for presentation in a few days.

The farm mortgage problem will be embodied in a bill on which Henry Morgenthau, Jr., the farm board chairman, and Dr. W. I. Myers, his assistant, are working.

By the time congress is ready to consider the bill, Morgenthau's plan for consolidating federal farm credit agencies will be completed. Most of this will be accomplished by executive order.

Morgenthau conferred on the legislation today with Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, and members of the senate on banking and agriculture committees.

In some respects, the plan will follow the Canadian system which provides for debtor relief or consolidation courts. These courts have broad powers to scale debts downward, but in this country this would not be possible because of constitutional limitations except where debtor and creditor could be brought together through an agreement to reduce the face of the debt.

A system of farm debt arbitration agencies was authorized at the last session of congress, and plans for setting them up are now being considered by federal district courts under whose direction they are intended to operate.

The basis of the Roosevelt plan, however, will be the refinancing of mortgages. The White House does not contemplate that a special bond issue will be needed, but the measure may authorize the credit agency to sell bonds in the same manner as the federal farm land banks now obtain capital for their operations.

One method of refinancing which has been proposed is the plan introduced by Chairman Jones of the house agriculture committee. This measure was explained by Speaker Rainey as one which would allow mortgage holders to trade their mortgages for government bonds, bearing low interest rates. The bonds, in turn, would be guaranteed by the mortgages which the government would hold. With the mortgages in the possession of the government, they could be reissued at much lower interest rates, Rainey said.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(P)—President Roosevelt soon will send to congress his proposals for refinancing agriculture and home mortgages.

This legislation, which will provide also for reduction in interest rates on mortgages, will be ready for congress by the end of the week.

Final details are being perfected, it was disclosed in high quarters, while congress goes ahead with work on the farm relief bill.

The new legislation is contemplated to include both government and private mortgages.

Mr. Roosevelt has two purposes in mind in his proposed credit legislation.

First, he wants to unite into one or two agencies the eight federal farm credit organizations now in existence. By this he hopes also to put the federal farm loan banks and joint stock land banks on a sounder and more efficient basis.

Secondly, he wants to bring about a real refinancing of the mortgages now borne by farm and home owners.

It was said that the new plan probably would be along the same general lines as the Canadian system.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—(P)—Representative Byrns of Tennessee, house democratic leader, today told newspapermen that the one cent a gallon gasoline tax would be reenacted at the special session of congress.

Reorganization Plans Up.

AUSTIN, March 22.—(P)—Suggestions for reorganization and consolidation of some branches of the Texas government were definitely before the legislature today in a report submitted by the legislative committee on organization and economy.

The railroad commission and the department of agriculture received more mention than anyone in the report. It was proposed that both these agencies be abolished. The commission would be replaced by a department of public service with bureaus of administration, utilities and oil and gas conservator. The department of agriculture would be transferred to the agricultural and mechanical collection.

The state bureau of labor statistics has not been useful because the Texas labor laws are too weak, the report said. The docket was described as too congested for the satisfactory handling of cases.

It was suggested that a department of labor be established headed by an appointed commissioner of labor which would perform the functions of the present bureau of labor statistics and industrial accident board, and all other labor welfare activities.

Another house bill to set aside $50,000 for a retirement fund for Galveston teachers was passed by the senate. Mrs. I. L. Lovenberg of Galveston donated the $50,000.

Reorganization Plans Up.

AUSTIN, March 22.—(P)—Suggestions for reorganization and consolidation of some branches of the Texas government were definitely before the legislature today in a report submitted by the legislative committee on organization and economy.

The railroad commission and the department of agriculture received more mention than anyone in the report. It was proposed that both these agencies be abolished. The commission would be replaced by a department of public service with bureaus of administration, utilities and oil and gas conservator. The department of agriculture would be transferred to the agricultural and mechanical collection.

The state bureau of labor statistics has not been useful because the Texas labor laws are too weak, the report said. The docket was described as too congested for the satisfactory handling of cases.

It was suggested that a department of labor be established headed by an appointed commissioner of labor which would perform the functions of the present bureau of labor statistics and industrial accident board, and all other labor welfare activities.
